News of the Courts.

J. Alfred Magoon was yesterday appointed permanent administrator of the estate of Benjamin E. Steigmann under a bond of $3,000 for the faithful discharge of his duties.

The suit of Lovejoy & Co. vs. the Waikiki Beach Co., has been appealed from an adverse decision in the District Court to the Circuit Court. The amount sued for is a balance of $61 on a liquor bill.

The case of the Territory against Mannel and Rita Silva, charged with distilling spirituous liquors without a license, was continued yesterday to the next term of the Circuit Court by consent.

The Attorney General and F. M. Brooks, attorney for defendant in the case of Wong Kwai, charged with having opium in possession, have entered into an agreement allowing the hearing of the case during a vacation of court.

An order has been signed in the Circuit Court appointing George Clark as receiver in the suit against C. Akau, C. Ako and C. K. Ai, by H. Hackfeld & Co. He is authorized, under a bond of $15,000 to receive all of the estate of C. Akau, including money and effects, real and personal, and to collect all outstanding debts. He may sell at public auction all or any part of the estate according to his judgment and may employ such servants as he deems necessary. The amount of the claim to be satisfied is $4,463.01.

W. F. C. Hasson, who is suing W. H. Pain et al. for dissolution of copartnership doing business under the name of the Palawai Valley and Upland Development Association, has filed a demand for numerous papers upon the defendants to be used in evidence in the suit. Five joiners in the demurrer of Pain were filed yesterday.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Excellent Promise of Good Things in Store for Its Patrons.

There is an excellent promise of good programs in store for theater goers. The Orpheum management has been making vigorous efforts to raise the standard of their performances and can now present a program that will please even the most fastidious. The present entertainment has some turns of more than ordinary merit, and the arrival of the new artists by the China contributes for Thursday night a metropolitan entertainment in which all are stars, absolutely without a weak feature in the bill.

Alice Raymond, cornetist, is known to every patronizer of vaudeville. As a soloist she stands without a peer. Mabel Le Claire, handsome and with a magnificent voice, once prima donna with the Bostonians, will draw many. Ida Howell, comedienne; Kerkamp, tenor, and Hanlon and Sluger, acrobats, are all well known. Every one of them was originally brought to the Coast for the Orpheum, San Francisco, and have appeared successfully on that circuit. Conlon and Ryder, and Adams, are deservedly being held over by the management.

The Thanksgiving Day program should fill the house and establish a new record and increased clientele for the local house.

The program will be thoroughly metropolitan and leave small room for criticism.

Tonight's program sees the Dulcie Sisters, Deming and Carroll, DeSasco, Brightling and Walton appear for the last time. The two last named have in theatrical parlance "doubled" and are presenting a neat little sketch. Conlon and Ryder's local topics made a hit, and Adams presented two fresh songs fully up to his standard.

Not the Right Report.

Through one of those blunders that sometimes occur in the best regulated newspaper offices the weather report at the head of the editorial page was not changed Monday night the old report of last Saturday appearing Tuesday morning following the heavy storm of Sunday and Monday afternoon. An effort has been made ever since The Republican was started to make the daily weather report a special feature of the paper, care being taken to give Professor Lyons' reports with accuracy, owing to their value, not only to the local reader, but to readers abroad who are anxious to know what the daily weather in Honolulu is. For this reason it is felt that an explanation of the mistake of Monday night is due the readers.
